Overview

SeleniumConf London is the perfect opportunity to connect with hundreds of QA, test automation and agile professionals.

Speakers

Ash Coleman Head of Diversity & Inclusion - Credit Karma

A progressive type, Ash focuses her efforts within technology on bringing awareness to inclusion of women and people of color, especially in the Context Driven Testing and Agile communities. Though technology and inclusion have her heart today, engineering was not her first love. A former chef, Ash crafted her software approach through the learnings of hospitality. After 16 years, she put recipes aside when she began her career in software development, falling back on her skills in engineering she acquired as a kid building computers with her brother. An avid fan of matching business needs with technological solutions, you can find her doing her best work on whichever coast is the sunniest. Having helped teams build out testing practices, formulate Agile processes and redefine culture, Ash, formally Engineering Manager in Quality, now serves as Head of Diversity & Inclusion for Credit Karma. She continues testing and consulting based out of San Francisco

Richard Bradshaw CEO - Ministry of Testing

Richard Bradshaw is an experienced tester, consultant, trainer and generally a friendly guy. He shares his passion for testing through consulting, training and giving presentations on a variety of topics relating to testing. With over 12 years of testing experience, he has a lot of insights in the world of testing and software development. Richard is currently the BossBoss at the Ministry of Testing, co-creator of the Automation in Testing (AiT) namespace, blogs at <https://automationintesting.com> and <https://thefriendlytester.co.uk>. Tweeting over at @FriendlyTester and also the creator of the YouTube channel Whiteboard Testing.

Aditi Mulay Automation Test Lead - Karsun Solutions LLC

Aditi Mulay is an Automation Test Lead at Karsun Solutions LLC where she works on automation framework, improving test coverage and automating test for the CI pipeline. She has been in the software development industry for more than 10 years and moved to automation once she started writing automation framework using Java and FitNesse for the QA team. Over time, she has worked on multiple technologies, mentored teams on best practices for writing stable tests and leveraging the technical concepts for faster and reliable test execution.
