Overview

Bring your bold thinking and innovative ideas to American Physical Therapy Association (APTA's) NEXT 2019! NEXT is where speakers and presenters can step out of the ordinary. NEXT is about exploring emerging topics and trends in physical therapy. And sharing your expertise and experience in innovative formats. Don't miss out on your chance to highlight emerging new practices and perspectives that will have a direct impact on improving patient outcomes and the future of physical therapy. APTA's NEXT Conference and Exposition is the only conference that offers diverse, forward-thinking programming that features interactive sessions where you can engage directly with the profession's forward thinkers and experts.
